COMMISSIONER MIKE FREEMAN RECEIVES HONORARY FELLOWS AWARD FROM AIMS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

WELD COUNTY, CO – Weld County Commissioner Mike Freeman received an Honorary Fellows Award from Aims Community College Wednesday, May 7, during a special ceremony held at the Beaty Hall Theater on the Aims Greeley Campus.

In a letter to Freeman announcing the award, Aims President Dr. Marsi Liddell wrote, “I would like to congratulate you and thank you for your contributions to Aims Community College and higher education in general.”

The award honors individuals who have made “extraordinary contributions to the college and/or higher education in general” the letter continues. “From time to time the Board of Trustees may recognize extraordinary commitment, allegiance, and contributions by individuals to the goals of Aims College by naming these individuals as Honorary Fellows of the College,” Dr. Liddell wrote.

Freeman served on the Aims Board of Trustees from 2010 to 2013.

"I am truly honored to be recognized by Aims," said Freeman. "Aims is a great institution and has a long, proud history of furthering educational opportunities for Weld County residents. The college is a valuable asset in this county, and I enjoyed my time as a Board member."
