Re: County Government

COMMISSIONERS NAME INTERIM DIRECTOR OF FINANCE

WELD COUNTY, CO – The Board of County Commissioners will officially name Don Warden as the interim Director of Finance at the Monday, January 13 Board Hearing. The previous Director, Monica Mika, announced yesterday to the Board her desire to pursue opportunities outside of county government effective February 14.

“The Board is very comfortable naming Don to this position,” said Commissioner Chairman Douglas Rademacher. “Don has served the county well in this position for many years and will be able to assist with a seamless transition.”

Warden was originally hired by Weld County government in September 1978 as the Director of Finance and Administrative Services. He held that title and position until May 2002 when he retired from full-time work with the county. Warden has, however, continued to work for the county as the Budget and Management Analyst since that time.
